

Bobo the Air-cleaner

By 3A Candy Wong

Last week, Mr Nip asked us to make a robot to help the earth.

First, we drew a plan of the robot. I drew the hat of our machine.

After that, we started to build our machine.

Then, we painted it gold. We called the machine Bobo.

Next, we took him to the street and he ate a lot of exhaust gas! He was so powerful and handsome!

Finally, we took him everywhere to make the earth better.

We felt excited and happy because it was fun to make the machine.
