

An Unlucky Day

Marco was playing with a dog in the park after the violin lessons. He put the violin on the bench. He was happy.

In the afternoon, Marco was very tired so he left the park but he forgot his violin. He left it on the bench.

Suddenly, Marco remembered he left his violin on the bench so he went back to the park but he couldn't find his violin.

Marco was upset because the violin was a birthday present from his grandma.

He went to the police station to find the policeman to help him find his violin. Suddenly, the dog pulled his violin and ran to Marco. Marco found his violin. He was very happy.
