

An Unlucky Day

by 4C Jacky Lee Siu Kit

It was sunny today. Marco was in a park playing with a stray dog. He put his violin on a bench. He was very happy.

It was time to go home, he left the park but forgot to take his violin with him. Suddenly, he remembered that the violin was still on the bench so he went back to the park yet he could not find his violin.

He felt really upset because the violin was a birthday present from his grandma. At that moment, the stray dog saw him and helped him to find the violin. He finally found his violin with the help of the dog. Marco was happy!
