An Unlucky Day

It was sunny today. Marco was in the park. He played with his dog. Then he put his violin on the bench. He felt happy.

After playing, he went back home but he forgot to pick up his violin. Suddenly he remembered his violin. He ran back to the park but he could not find it. He felt upset because he lost the violin gave by his grandma.

He wanted someone to help him so he went to the guard station. The guard helped him. Unfortunately, they could not find his violin. He was sad. He learned that he should be more careful.
