

A Basketball Game

By Sharmeen

It was a sunny day. Tom and Ted were playing basketball with their friends in a basketball court after school. They were playing happily. Suddenly Tom passed the ball to ted but Ted couldn't catch the ball so the ball flew out of the court.

"Why don't you catch the ball, Ted?" Tom asked angrily.

"What should we do now?" Ted said sadly.

Then the boys ran after the ball. Unfortunately the ball hit Mr Chan's car and the window was broken.

"Oh! No! Let's go." Tom shouted.

"No, we should wait for the car owner. We should say sorry to Mr Chan." Ted replied. The boys were frightened.

After a while, Mr Chan came to the car park and he asked the boys, "Who broke my car window?" Tom and Ted apologized to Mr Chan for breaking his car window. Mr Chan said, "No problem. You should be careful next time!"

