

A Basketball Game

By Au Yeung Chun Kit

It was a sunny day. Tom was playing basketball with his friends in a basketball court. They were playing happily.

Sam passed the ball to Tom but Tom couldn't catch the ball. Tom said, 'Sorry! I didn't catch the ball. Please forgive me!' And then they saw the ball flew out of the court. The ball hit a car's windshield and broke it. They boys were scared. They hid behind the basketball court at once!

The car owner was nearby. He was very angry and shouted, 'If I know who did this, I will make him pay!' The boys heard it and they said to themselves, 'Next time we must play more carefully.'
