

In a Theme Park

Yesterday, my mom and dad took me to a theme park in the afternoon.

We lined up to buy tickets. The queue was very long and we had waited for half an hour to get the tickets. After entering the park, I saw my favourite cartoon character. His name was Sunny Pig. I was very excited. I rushed to him and took a photo with him. Suddenly, Sunny Pig fell down onto the ground. I was very scared. My mom and dad took him to the clinic immediately.

Finally, Sunny Pig became conscious again. He thanked us for helping him and gave us three free tickets as a reward.
