

An Unlucky Day

By Yau Yuet, Joy

It was sunny today. Marco was playing at the park. He put his violin on the bench and played with a dog. He was playing happily.

It was six o'clock in the evening. Marco felt tired and so he wanted to leave the park. Marco was careless because he forgot his violin. He didn't pick up his violin.

Suddenly Marco remembered his violin and he ran back to the park. Unluckily he didn't find his violin. Marco felt upset and cried loudly because the violin was his birthday gift from his grandma.

Marco didn't know what to do so he went back home. He told his mum what happened. Mum went to the park with Marco. At last they found the violin under a big tree. Marco was happy.