

Tom's Special Day

Today is Sports Day. It is a sunny day. Tom and his classmates are at school. He feels happy because he likes doing sports.

He is good at playing basketball and football. He feels happy because he can play basketball and football with his friends. Oh! It rains heavily. He feels sad because he cannot play ball games in the rain.

He stays at school and does his homework with his classmates. An hour later, he has finished his homework. He feels happy again.
