

A Big Fish
by Pan Chenlin, Lam

Last Friday, it was sunny and hot. Ricky and Wilson went fishing by a river in Sha Tin. They felt excited and shared their food with each another.

Then, Wilson got a lot of fish. The fish was small. Wilson felt very happy. But Ricky felt bored because he didn't catch any fish.

After a while, Ricky's fishing rod was shaking. It was very heavy. Ricky tried to pull the fishing rod up but he couldn't. He was very worried.

Ricky shouted, 'Wilson! Please help me to pull the rod! It is very heavy!' Wilson said, 'OK!' They pulled the fishing rod together.

After five minutes, they finally pulled up the rod. That was a very big fish. Ricky and Wilson both jumped and jumped happily. After that, they went home and roasted the fish. They felt so joyful.

I learnt from the story that when we do things together, we will gain
