In a theme park

Last week, the weather was very hot and sunny. So I went to the Fun Theme Park with my family. There was a long queue and it was crowded. I was unhappy.

I saw my favourite cartoon character so I rushed to him. I was very delighted. I said, "Can I take a photo with you?"

The cartoon character screamed when he fell down. And he said, "Oh my god! Help me!" I was very scared too and the balloons were flown in the sky.

At last, all the people laughed at the cartoon character. Finally I took a photo with the cartoon character. I was happy. It was an unforgettable day for me.
