Today is Daisy's birthday. Her sister, Linda, found a recipe for making pancakes. She wanted to make pancakes for Daisy because Daisy had given the pancakes to her as her birthday present.

To make the pancakes, Linda put the flour, eggs, butter and sugar into a mixing bowl. Then she beat them with a spoon for five minutes. After that, she heated some oil in the pan. Finally, she added two spoonfuls of the pancake mixture to the hot oil and fried for five minutes.

The pancakes smelt delicious. Linda went to the sitting room with the pancakes. However, she tripped over the toy car. The pancakes dropped on the floor. Daisy said, 'Oh! No!' Linda said, 'Don't be sad. We can go to the supermarket to buy pancakes.' They felt unhappy because they had to throw away the pancakes in the rubbish bin.

Finally, they went to the supermarket to buy pancakes. They went home and ate the pancakes with each other.
