

Eric and the Genie

They did not know what to do. Then the genie had an idea. 'Shall we ask the wizard for help?' he suggested.

They set off to find the wizard. They crossed the river and climbed the mountain. At last they found the wizard's home. They were exhausted.

They entered the wizard's house. Suddenly, a wizard appeared. 'Who are you?' asked the wizard. 'I'm Eric. I want to become shorter,' replied Eric. The wizard helped him. Then the wizard made him a magic drink. After a while, Eric became his normal size again. He was very happy. 'Thank you very much,' said Eric. 'You're welcome,' replied the wizard.

In the end, Eric and the genie became friends and they lived happily ever after. Eric never asked for another wish again.

By Ayman